How do I Sell my solar panels?

Find a good location to sell your solar panels. If you are selling to homeowners, consider setting up a display at a local home improvement store or green fair. If you are selling to businesses, consider exhibiting at trade shows or business expositions that focus on environment-friendly products and services. Price your solar panels competitively.

Is it difficult to sell solar panels?

Selling solar panels is not easy or hard in the beginning. It becomes easier as you gain confidence. The difficulty of selling solar panels depends on several factors, including the type of solar panel you're selling, where you're selling it, and who your target market is.

Can you sell a home with solar panels?

In all likelihood, no. For most people, rooftop solar increases the value of their home, making it even more desirable when it eventually hits the market. And despite common fears about the process, selling a home with solar panels is usually pretty easy -- as long as your realtor is up to speed on how it works.

Should you sell solar panels door-to-door?

Going door-to-door is a great place to start selling solar-- even though it might sound a bit old-fashioned at first. Take Vivint, the home security company, for example.

Is selling solar panels a profitable business?

Selling solar panels can be a lucrative business, but it requires more than just having a good product. You need to understand your target market, have effective sales strategies and be able to communicate the benefits of solar power in a convincing way.

Do solar panels affect the sale of a home?

The type of solar purchase you made has a big impact on what happens when you go to sell your home. This is the simplest scenario. If you paid cash and own the panels, solar will have very little impact on the sale process for your home. Again, it's not unlike selling a home with a pool or any other add-on.
