Does WeChat Pay work in China?

WeChat Pay is easy to use, accepted everywhere in China universally, integrated into online shopping and food delivery apps, and so wide-spread that even buskers on the streets have swapped the tin cup for a QR code. We are not even joking! This article will take approximately 10 minutes to read. Don't have the time right now? No worries.

Does WeChat Pay work in the US?

It was first launched for Chinese tourists visiting the US, but it's now become a handy mobile payment option for expats and international students living here. Not all stores and websites accept WeChat Pay as a payment method though. So you'll need to look out for the WeChat Pay sign in store or at checkout, or enquire with the retailer directly.

How do I link a credit card to WeChat Pay?

This usually requires providing your passport number and a photograph of your passport. Foreigners can link international credit cards (Visa, MasterCard) to WeChat Pay. Input your card details, and ensure your card supports international transactions. Verification might involve a small transaction to confirm the card's validity.

How do I return money from a wechat account?

You can return the amount via cash or other means. To pay in stores, open WeChat, go to "Wallet," tap on "QR Code for Payment," and let the cashier scan your QR code. You can also scan the store's QR code and enter the amount you need to pay.

Can I use WeChat to pay a merchant?

You can use it to pay merchants such as DiDi taxis, Trip, and Air China but you cannot make transfers to individuals or send red packets. You can however use it in-store for merchants' QR codes so this is still a useful way to access WeChat's payment function.
