Where can I Leave my Luggage at Tokyu Foodshow?

Refrigerated coin lockers are available on a passage between Tokyu Foodshow and Toyoko Noren-gai. If you want a more secure way to leave your bags, there are also luggage storage facilities manned by staff. Although the price is more expensive than coin lockers, these luggage storage facilities accept any sized bags.

What kind of lockers do Tokyo stations use?

Most stations in central Tokyo use electronic lockers that allow you to pay with IC cards like Suica and Pasma, which is handy. Electronic lockers have English guidance, too. Smaller stations and stations in rural areas may still use classic key-style lockers. If you leave your items for longer than three days, the station staff will clear them.

Are there coin lockers at Shinjuku Station?

The good news is that there are hundreds of coin lockers at Shinjuku Station in Tokyo. The bad news is that with millions of people using the rail hub every day, it can be tough finding an empty locker. Fortunately, two new left luggage and courier service counters have recently opened at Shinjuku Station (see below).

Where can I store my Luggage in Shinjuku?

The room is underground (the closest aboveground exit is Exit 3 at Keio Line Shinjuku Station) right next to the Keio New Line subway ticket gates. Open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. every day, it will store baggage for 1,000 yen per item.

Does Shibuya 109 have a coin locker?

In addition, there's a coin locker handling office at the underground entrance of Shibuya 109 on the 2F basement level. Prices are the same per piece of luggage but it's open slightly longer hours, from 9 am to 10 pm daily. Coin Space is a co-working facility that has a luggage storage service operated by the Shibuya Tourism Association.

Where are the lockers in Shinjuku?

By far the biggest group of lockers at Shinjuku lies underground near the West Exit. From the ticket gates, go left until you see escalators or stairs heading down to the Odakyu Department Store food basement. Go down and turn left, and look for an exit into an underground corridor that's full of hundreds of large, medium and small lockers.
