Can you get solar panels on your roof?

Under these agreements, you can get solar panels on your roof for no out-of-pocket costs-but you also won't own the system or be eligible for most solar incentives. If you don't want to spend any money upfront, financing your system with a $0-down solar loan is usually your best option.

Are solar panels free?

You may see some solar panel companies advertise their panels as "free" or "no cost." In most cases, these companies are describing a solar lease or solar power purchase agreement (PPA) type of program. Under these agreements, the company installs solar panels on your roof or property for no upfront to you; hence, the "free" terminology.

Are solar panels a good option for renters?

The simple answer for renters who want solar panels for their apartment or house is that it's possible!

Can a landlord install a solar panel system?

While you may be able to pitch your landlord to install a rooftop solar panel system, community solar is more likely to be your best bet to enjoy the benefits of solar if you don't own your roof space through incentives like virtual net metering, community solar participants can earn credits back on their electricity bill, saving money every month.

Does the Department of energy offer free solar panels?

The Department of Energy and the Solar Energy Technologies Office have got you covered! The Department of Energy is aware of claims of offers for free solar panels or that solar companies must provide solar panels for free if requested.

Are "free" solar panels a good idea?

The concept of "free" or "no-cost" solar panels really is too good to be true. "Free" solar panels are essentially rented from solar companies. While you will reap the benefits of cheaper electricity bills through solar power, you do not own the panels; the solar company does. Once your lease agreement is up, the panels will be removed.
