Is installing solar panels illegal in any state?

Technically, no state outlaws or bans solar panels; quite the opposite. Most states have solar access laws that forbid any agreement, covenant, condition, bylaw, or contract that outlaws or limits solar installations by Homeowners Associations (HOA) or other municipal bodies.

Can HOAs ban solar panels?

It depends on where you are. Nearly half of all states have enacted laws protecting homeowners' rights to installing solar panels. These laws generally prohibit HOAs from outright banning solar panels within their communities. Solar access rights can fall under one of two types -- solar access laws and solar easements.

Are solar panels legal?

In fact, the government has been supporting solar panels by providing support and financial incentives. Certain homeowners associations (HOAs) prohibit solar panel installations, but these are generally illegal and unenforceable. Generally, you may assume that solar panel installations are acceptable, even encouraged by the government.

Are solar access laws illegal?

With that being said, unpermitted systems are illegal to operate in many American jurisdictions, even in states with solar access laws. What is the difference between solar access laws and solar easement laws?

Are solar panels free?

The Department of Energy is aware of claims of offers for free solar panels or that solar companies must provide solar panels for free if requested. However, the federal government does not offer any programs for free home solar panel installations nor does the government require companies to grant solar panels for free to customers.

Are solar panels a viable option?

However, some states still make installing solar panels functionally impossible by creating laws with "reasonable restrictions," such as increased taxing, energy caps, or even billing solar panel users. Combine these laws with a lack of incentive programs, and solar panels are not viable for homeowners in many states.
