

Solar Photovoltaic Panel Assembly Scam

Are free solar panels a scam?

Know that "free" or "no cost" solar panel offers are scams. The federal government does not install solar systems in homes for free. If you're considering whether solar energy is right for you, check out the Department of Energy's guide for homeowners and learn more. Or check out the Department of Treasury's guidance on clean energy.

How does a solar installation scam work?

How the scam works: People posing as solar installers or utility employees call or come to your home and offer free solar panels through made-up government programs or incentives. Sometimes they also claim their company will cover the cost of installation by providing huge rebates.

Are solar panel scams common in Florida and California?

Solar panel scams in Florida and California are quite common, as they are in any region where solar energy is popular and incentives are provided. Scammers take advantage of people's limited knowledge about solar systems, providing misleading information that makes it hard for victims to recognize the scam.

How do I know if a solar company is a scam?

Look up existing scams. The Better Business Bureau has a free scam tracker. You can search by company name or keyword to see if there are any active scams in your area. Ask questions. A legitimate solar company will be happy to answer questions. If they get pushy or dodge your questions, that's a red flag.

How do I file a complaint against a solar panel company?

Check your state's DOJ website for information on filing a lawsuit or settling a complaint in small claims court. With this, you have learned that filing complaints against solar panel companies involved in solar scams is quite simple. Let's finally read about some cases of solar panel scams in Florida and California.

What are the most common solar scams?

Here are some common scams to be aware of: 1. Fake Solar Companies Some scammers create fake solar companies, selling solar panel systems without any intention of installing them. They may ask for a big upfront payment and then vanish without doing any work. 2. Identity Theft Scams
