What is solar panel insurance?

Solar panel insurance is a type of coverage that protects homeowners who have installed solar panels on their property. This coverage is typically included in most homeowners insurance policies, which means that no separate solar panel insurance is needed.

Do I need insurance for a solar panel system?

In most cases, there is no need to get additional insurance to cover your solar panel system. However, since solar is worth thousands or even tens of thousands of dollars and can add around $10,000 to $30,000 of value to your home, we might recommend raising your coverage limit to cover the cost of your home with the solar panel system.

What is a dedicated solar panel insurance policy?

A dedicated solar panel insurance policy is designed to provide comprehensive coverage for your solar panel system. It often offers more extensive protection than what is provided by homeowners insurance.

Are solar panels covered by a separate insurance policy?

Separate insurance policies for solar panels may offer additional benefits, such as coverage for loss of income due to system downtime or the costs associated with temporary replacement power. These added protections could provide financial security in unexpected disruptions to your solar panel system.

Does home insurance cover rooftop solar panels?

Yes, most home insurance policies do cover rooftop solar panels. By installing solar panels you are enabling your house to produce its own electricity. These rooftop solar panels are usually considered a permanent attachment to your property, similar to a patio or a security system and can, therefore, be considered a form of home improvement.

What factors affect solar panel insurance?

Factors that may affect your solar panel insurance include the value of your solar panels, the location of your home, the type of installation, and the coverage limits of your policy. It is important to discuss these factors with your insurance provider to ensure that you have adequate coverage.
